This book worked great with my class. Very similar to the previous edition so if you need to save money, you could get the older one. It's always recommended that if you've been assigned problems to check out the edition on reserve in your college library just to make sure the numbering hasn't changed.

A typical soil is about 50% solids (45% mineral and 5% organic matter), and 50% voids (or pores) of which half is occupied by water and half by gas. The percent soil mineral and organic content can be treated as a constant (in the short term), while the percent soil water and gas content is considered highly variable whereby a rise in one is simultaneously balanced by a reduction in the other.

Selenium is a chemical element with symbol Se and atomic number 34. It is a nonmetal (more rarely considered a metalloid) with properties that are intermediate between the elements above and below in the periodic table, sulfur and tellurium, and also has similarities to arsenic. It rarely occurs in its elemental state or as pure ore compounds in the Earth's crust.

1.1. Metal organic frameworks. Metal-organic frameworks (MOFs) are crystalline materials composed of metal ions (or metal clusters) and organic linkers. As a novel class of porous materials, MOFs have attracted great attention in recent years owing to their high surface area and permanent porosity.
