Picture frames have traditionally been made of wood, which is still the most common material, although other materials are used including silver, bronze, aluminum, and plastics such as polystyrene.A picture frame may be of any color or texture, but gilding is common, especially on older wooden frames. Some picture frames have elaborate molding which may relate to the subject matter.

Most forms of steel framing used in UK construction may be grouped as follows: Braced frames or 'simple' construction, in which the beams and columns are designed to resist vertical loads only. The connections are designed as nominally pinned.; Rigid or continuous frames, in which the framed structure is designed so that the connections between the members are moment-resisting.
